

My Self Milind Naik born in 1967 in Pune the Cultural capital of Maharashtra. Completed school education from MES boy's high school Pune. After 10th Joined Government polytechnic of Pune & completed my Diploma in Electrical Engineering in 1985. Further done Diploma in Computer Science from IMCC.

Worked in Electro-line an electrical contracting company to take experience in the electrical contracting.

I began my professional journey as a Licensed Electrical Contractor, over 3 decades ago as an Electrical Contracting firm under name of Electro-man System, catering domestic customer and gradually expanded in LT/ HT installations for domestic and industrial customers. We upgraded ourselves to Private Limited organization in January 2008.

We offer Turnkey Electrification Solutions to domestic and industrial segments. With professional approach and demonstrated capabilities we have earned recognition as one of the trusted and committed business partner with selective business houses in the construction community and private sectors.

With the experience of past projects, we are able to plan & coordinate the project to micro level that makes us competitive in terms of price & on time delivery of the project, which is the most critical factor today. Thus relieve the client of the tedious task of coordination with various other agencies and help them to save the precious resources & time that would be wasted in tying up the loose ends.

We strongly believe that first things first & first time right, and we share our expertise in planning & management of the project to deliver the best of services to the delight of our client & end customer by aiding to the job with quality & added value.
